

wedi wins BUILD Architecture Award 2022

For the eighth time, BUILD Magazine is honoring the most innovative projects and products in the field of design and architecture with the Architecture Awards. With its waterproof system solutions for bathrooms and wet rooms, wedi won one of the coveted awards in the category "Best Shower & Wet Room Systems Supplier Australasia" this year.

Since 2015, BUILD is the only globally oriented architecture and construction magazine to award the Architecture Awards to the world's leading brands and designers of our time. From interior designers and renovation specialists to project managers, the awards are open to a wide range of applicants from the entire architecture and construction industry. In addition to design, sustainability and efficiency, the BUILD jury also assesses criteria such as innovation, customer commitment and corporate performance. With its exceptional system solutions for individual and safe wet room design, wedi was awarded in the category "Best Shower & Wet Room Systems Supplier Australasia".

Innovation with tradition

What began as a one-man operation in the in-house garage is now a company with more than 500 employees operating in more than 50 countries. Since its foundation in 1983, Helmut Wedi has pursued the goal of simplifying the daily work of craftsmen and tile-laying companies through innovative product solutions. With the development of the 100 percent waterproof construction plate with the characteristic blue core made of extruded polystyrene hard foam, wedi laid the foundation for its comprehensive portfolio of functional system solutions for baths and wet areas. Today, the company's product range includes complete construction systems with which individual wet rooms can be designed in the shortest possible time: In addition to sophisticated, floor-level shower systems, exciting design elements, aesthetic design surfaces and practical system accessories, wedi offers its customers a comprehensive module and object construction service. "With our quality promise, the end user has the security of being able to take a shower every morning with pleasure for many years without having to worry about leaks or mould. For the processor, quality means being sure that all wedi products are exactly matched to each other and form a dense and functioning whole," explains Peter Beckmann, Director of Sales Australia and New Zealand.
